CODAX provides a lightweight tool to help organizations integrate their software and industrial machinery. It points on becoming the missing layer between data collection and the analytics tools, thus getting the highest value of the generated data.

FLYINGBASKET was founded in 2015 by the brothers Moritz and Matthias Moroder, with one vision: aviation beyond its limits. The company focuses on the design, production, operation and maintenance of Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs). These multicopters are designed for commercial applications and can carry loads of up to 100 kg.

KIBUN is a digital mood barometer for companies that tracks regularly, anonymously and automatically the mood of employees. And thus helps prevent and resolve conflicts among employees.

MAS ROOF operates in the field of sustainable construction and is developing the world's first complete modular roof with integrated solar power.

TRUCKSCREENIA is developing modern screen technology, mounted on the back of trucks, vans or buses, that offers digital space for customized advertisements as well as traffic warning and information.

YAKKI is an online marketplace that connects people looking for guided outdoor activities, with professionals who like to share their passion and knowledge by bringing others along.

All the Start-ups presenting themselves in pitches will also be part of the Start-up Expo.
